Notorious Gossip

The mistress of the house heard the bell ring, and saw standing at the open door a Chinese hawk. Quickly retreating, she called out to the maid: "There's a Chinese at the door. You go, Ella."

This was too much for the Chinese, who stuck his head well into the hall and yelled indignantly at the mistress: "You go 'ella yourself!"

Sandy was expecting a guest; so there was great preparation at tea time!

"Mary," said he to his wife, "you'll be sure to put the best sugar tongs on the table for MacTavish to use."

"The tongs, Sandy?" said she, surprised. "Why, we've only got the granulated sugar!"

"Aye," said Sandy. "Ah'm awer of that—that's why I want the tongs in use!"

Father ruefully gazed on his last pound.

"Money has wings, and house rents make it fly," he said.

"Yes," said his 15-year-old Boy Scout son, "and some house have wings, for I've seen many a house fly."

"You're smarter than your old dad, maybe, my son; but I always thought that no part of a house except the chimney flew!"

Little Jones presented himself at the office with a noticeable gap in his upper dentures.

"Hallo!" was the cry. "Had an accident?"

"No," was the reply. "Only a row with the missus."

"What! You surely didn't come to blows?"

"Oh, no!" said Jones, "but next time I gnash my teeth I'll remember to take my pipe out of my mouth."

He took her in his arms.

"Oh, darling," he murmured, "I love you so! Please say you'll be mine. I'm not rich, like Percival Brown. I haven't a car, or a fine house, or a well-stocked cellar; but, darling, I love you, and I cannot live without you!"

"Two soft arms stole around his neck, and two ruby lips whispered in his ear: "And I love you, too, darling; but—where does this man Brown live?"

BRITISH AMBASSADOR'S DEPARTURE

Sir Alexander Cadogan, the retiring British Ambassador, received a great send-off when he left for Nanking by train this afternoon, practically the entire Embassy staff and many members of the diplomatic corps and Chinese officials, as well as many friends of all nationalities, going to the station.

In the morning Sir Alexander paid his last official call here, visiting General Sung Cheh-yuan. His family leaves on Monday and is rejoining him in Shanghai.

INCIDENT ON "RELIANCE"

German Passengers Defended

Manila, Mar. 28.

The Captain of the Reliance has issued a statement to the press in defence of the action of the German passengers on the cruising liner. He said that Mr. Simonds' statement to the "Malaya Tribune" was unwarranted and uncalculated, and that Mr. Simonds himself admitted his error.

He added that the report that Mr. Simonds and his wife had been insulted and spat upon was too ridiculous to require refutation. However, Mr. Simonds insists that it is true.

The Reliance sailed for Hong Kong at 7 o'clock this evening. Mr. Simonds and his wife remained in Manila.

Reuter.

CRITICISM RESENTED

When the Hamburg-America round-the-world liner Reliance arrived in Manila on Friday, Mr. A. T. Simonds, President of the Simonds Saw and Steel Company, Philadelphia, Massachusetts, and Mrs. Simonds, both passengers on the Reliance, applied for police protection as they believed their lives to be endangered owing to the attitude of other passengers of the Reliance, most of whom were Germans.

It appeared that on March 17 at Singapore, Mr. Simonds made a statement to the "Malaya Tribune" regarding the European situation, in which he severely criticised the re-militarisation of the Rhineland. The Germans on board took offence, and threatened Mr. Simonds, who was compelled to lock himself, with his wife, inside their cabin until the liner's arrival at Manila on Friday. A young German on board who struck up for Mr. Simonds was badly beaten up.

ILLICIT DRUG TRAFFIC

League Campaign Difficulties

Geneva, Mar. 28.

The present system of fighting the illicit drug traffic has broken down entirely, states Mr. H. A. Lyall, Chairman of the Permanent Control Opium Board of the League, reporting on the Board's work. Mr. Lyall bases his contention on comparison between the infinitesimal seizures of drugs in North America and the total number of addicts in the United States and Canada, officially stated to be 120,000 and 8,000 respectively.

He points out that drug addicts are not confined to these countries and it is the inevitable conclusion that clandestine factories producing many tons of drugs annually exist somewhere.

It is admitted that smuggling measures cannot be stopped without measures calculated to choke the legitimate trade. The Board states that there are sufficient stocks of opium in the Netherlands East Indies to last 48 years and urges the Netherlands Government to diminish the quantity as soon as possible.

Opium experts at Geneva draw attention to the recent declaration of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, that the Chinese Government has a measure of responsibility in the checking of opium-smoking among Chinese outside China, and point out that if stocks continue to exist

HITLER DEALS WITH THE SITUATION

Mutual Understanding Between Nations

(“Hong Kong Daily Press” Special)

Essen, March 27. All eyes in Germany were focussed on Friday on this city, the centre of the nation's industrial life, where Hitler spoke in the afternoon before 120,000 workers who crowded the enormous locomotive erection shop of the world famous Krupp plant to overflowing, while approximately 700,000 people gathered round loudspeakers erected in the cities' public squares.

The meeting was preceded by an impressive ceremony at 3.45 o'clock when the Reich's Minister for Propaganda, Dr. Goebbels, speaking from the Krupp works gave an order to all stations to broadcast that flags were to be hoisted on all public buildings and private houses throughout the Reich, the flags to remain flying until the election was over.

Dr. Goebbels himself reported the proceedings for the Radio, and his introductory remark pointed out that the building in which the meeting was taking place was the world's largest machine shop.

GREAT WELCOME

Simultaneous cheers greeted the Chancellor when he entered shortly after four o'clock. At that time the sirens of the Krupp Factory began to shriek, being joined by the bells, whistles and sirens of the workshops, ships and locomotives throughout the Reich, thus giving the signal for one minute's silence all over Germany, which was meant as a manifestation of the country's united resolve to support the Fuehrer in his efforts to secure for the nation peace, honour and equality of rights.

After being welcomed by the head of the Krupp firm, Baron Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach, Hitler began his speech by saying that he saw in the Krupp plant not a great forge for war armaments, but a huge workshop for weapons of peace, because it manufactured everything which the nation needed to maintain its independence and freedom in the world.

INTERESTS OF PEOPLE

Picturing the distressful conditions which he found in Germany on assuming power, the Chancellor declared that he saw himself confronted with the task of renewing the nation's slumbering forces. His sole aim was to look after the interests of the German nation. He did not belong to any caste or party, but solely to the German people. He was probably the only statesman who did not even have a bank account. All that he wanted was his people, so that his will commanded respect in the outside world.

“We are not looking for any quarrel with the other nations. On the contrary, I am of the opinion that the nations can profit only by a mutual understanding. I shall always do my best to promote peace, but I will never think of surrendering to anybody. I do not want a great people looked upon as second-rate. I cannot endure being the representative of a nation with inferior rights.

I have often offered my hand to the other nations, and it has always been rejected. Now I have restored German equality on my own accord, without previously obtaining the consent of the other nations. I have never made a secret agreement nor a military alliance, and shall never conclude one in future, but if Europe entangles herself in military alliances, then at any time I want to see Germany's sovereignty restored over all her territory.

If the others now tell me that they will pass sentence on me, then I shall answer, that only my people has the right to pass sentence on me. My nation is my judge and not an international council.

TREATY VIOLATION

Never have treaties been violated so often as within the past ten years. It is just because we believe in the sanctity of treaties as we would like to see them signed at our own free will, by two equals, that alone makes a treaty sacred.

Hitler then said that it would be a good thing, in the course of his further remarks, if some statesmen would attend more to their own affairs than those of other nations. He had no reason for wanting to make difficulties in France and England. He had enough to do in Germany, where he saw millions living under bad housing conditions and badly clothed. He saw immense possibilities for levelling the social conditions and distinctions—a good task, if only the other nations and statesmen would attend to the task awaiting them in their own countries.

APPEAL FOR UNITY

If the German people expressed their confidence in him on the coming Sunday, and entitled him to declare that what he said was also said in the name of the German nation, he would submit a new offer, and if the other statesmen again came to him and said he should make a gesture, they would have to ask their people: “Shall we negotiate with Germany or not? Shall we make our peace, or shall we make gestures?”

He was convinced that their people would give them the answer: “Don't talk about gestures and symbolic actions, but make peace!”

Hitler concluded his speech with the passionate appeal to all to give him their vote on Sunday. Then he could stand up before the statesmen of the other countries and say:

“Sir, whether you are speaking in the name of your nation, or not, I do not know. But I am speaking in the name of mine—that is something you cannot dispute!”

EQUAL RIGHTS

Essen, Mar. 27. “Without internal peace Germany must perish.”

“There can be no victors nor vanquished. Peace can only be founded on equal rights and equal honour.”

“Don't talk to me of the holiness of treaties! When have treaties been more broken than during the last eighteen years?” These were high-lights of the address of the German Chancellor, Herr Adolf Hitler, delivered here to-day.

The intensely nationalistic appeal of the Chancellor was followed by a moving address by Dr. Josef Goebbels, the Minister for Propaganda, who, reminding France of Germany's love of peace, added: “Attack us and you will find that every inch of territory conquered would cost you thousands of lives!”

Using the chassis of a railway engine for a platform in Krupp's huge locomotive shop, he made his ninth election speech preceded by one minute's silence throughout the country.

It is estimated that the Chancellor's address was heard by 1,000,000 persons, directly or through loudspeakers, but the words of Herr Hitler rang around the world as well for the speech was broadcast.

FORGERS OF PEACE

He said he had chosen to speak at Essen because there was no better symbolical place from which to address the workers of the German Empire. His hearers were not only the forgers of armaments, but the forgers of peace, he said.

He reviewed the beneficial changes the Nazi regime had effected in Germany's economic life during the last three years. He remarked that his predecessors had talked for fifteen years, but that at the end of that time somebody had to act.

“I came and I acted,” he declared.

Der Fuehrer emphasised the importance of unity for a nation to obtain its rights, not only politically and economically, but as humans.

“We have discovered a new national consciousness. Without internal peace Germany must perish.

There can be no victors nor vanquished. Peace can only be founded on equal rights and equal honour.”

NOT SEEKING WAR

He added that he did not seek war with other nations. They only saw the possibility of a great understanding for the benefit of all. They wanted foreign statesmen to respect their internal affairs.

Europe was like a family. And it was not right, declared the Chancellor, that one family should continually intrude in the house of another.

Germany, he said had no interest in France or Belgium or any other country.

“Don't talk to me of the holiness of treaties!”

“When have treaties, been more

GERMAN POINT OF VIEW

Right To Fortify Rhineland

(“Hong Kong Daily Press” Special)

Berlin, Mar. 27.

Mr. Anthony Eden's speech in the House of Commons aroused little or no enthusiasm here, judging from the critical attitude of the press. The chief source of dissatisfaction appears to be Eden's sentence on German helping to ensure future negotiations by making some contribution.

The British Foreign Secretary emphasised in this connection that Germany declined to refrain from building fortifications in the Rhineland.

“We have already made many contributions, and must refuse any one-sided demands,” writes the Editor of the “Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung.” He adds that after all that has happened, probably nobody could expect Germany to leave her frontiers unprotected against an invasion of foreign troops. It was not a matter of prestige, since the conclusion of the Franco-Soviet Pact made the protection of the frontiers a vital question.

In a similar vein the “Berliner Tageblatt,” in a long editorial stresses the German right to fortify the west frontier, going on to state that France fears that a chain of the same concrete as she built on the other side of the frontier would weaken her position as an ally in Eastern Europe, since she would then no longer being in a position to keep the German troops engaged on the western frontier.

“After Eden's speech, our hopes that at last a way into the open will be found, have not grown, and we reckon with great difficulties before we emerge from this blind alley.”

PACT BECOMES EFFECTIVE

(“Hong Kong Daily Press” Special)

Paris, Mar. 27.

The Franco-Russian Pact came into force on Friday afternoon, when the documents of ratification were exchanged at the Quai d'Orsay by Flandin and Litvinoff.

Flandin, who had returned from his constituency in the Dept. Yonne, on Friday morning conferred at some length with Premier Sarraut and Minister Paul-Boncour. He subsequently received the Turkish foreign Minister, Rushdi Aras and the Czechoslovakian Minister Osuskil. The Foreign Minister left again for Yonne on Friday evening.

VENIZELOS' FUNERAL

(“Hong Kong Daily Press” Special)

Athens, Mar. 27.

The late Statesman Venizelos was given an impressive funeral on Friday in Canea on Crete, the ceremony being attended by Hereditary Prince Paul, while many thousands lined the streets through which the procession passed.

The coffin was placed on a gun carriage which was escorted by a battalion of the famous “Ozozones” Regiment.

The body will lie in State for a few days in the St. Magdalenes Chapel at Halepa near Canea, before being laid to final rest in a tomb opposite Venizelos' former residence.

Germany, he said, wanted only quiet and peace, work and bread, and decent life.

A CHALLENGE

Essen, Mar. 27.

Dr. Josef Goebbels, the German Minister of Propaganda, followed Herr Adolf Hitler on the programme of addresses at Essen to-day.

He was addressing France when he said: “Have we insulted you, injured you or invaded you? We shall not attack you; but our love of peace should not be taken for weakness.”

“Attack us,” he challenged, “and you will find that every inch of territory conquered would cost you thousands of lives!”

SWEDISH AMBULANCE UNDER FIRE

Addis Ababa, Mar. 27. The Swedish ambulance unit on the Southern Ethiopian front is reported to have been partly destroyed during the heavy bombardment of Gomma, in Bale Province, this morning.

The unit affected is apparently that under the command of Dr. Hylander, which was bombed with loss of life near Dolo in December. The Swedish Government lodged a sharp protest on that occasion.—Reuter.

ANOTHER PROTEST

Paris, Mar. 27. The Italian air raid over Gomma resulted in many native casualties, it is reported, but the Swedish ambulance unit took refuge in the forest and none was injured.

The Ethiopian Red Cross has lodged another protest with the League of Nations as a result of this bombardment.—Reuter.

ETHIOPIAN MOVE

Addis Ababa, Mar. 27. Emperor Haile Selassie, who is personally commanding the great bulk of the Ethiopian Army, has moved with a mass of men from Khoram to a point near Sokota, 100 miles east of Gondar, thus strengthening his strategic position.—Reuter.

QUEEN MARY'S NEW DISTINCTION

London, Mar. 27. Queen Mary has been appointed Grand Master of the Order of the British Empire, a most unusual distinction, as the office has never previously been held by a woman. King Edward VIII relinquished the Grand Mastership when he became King and automatically Sovereign of the Order. Queen Mary is already a Dame Reuter's Bulletin Service.

His Excellency the Governor has appointed the following officers to be Government Wireless Telegraphy Surveyors for the purposes of the Merchant Shipping Ordinance, 1899: Richard Percy Morris, Douglas William Waterton, James Key, Frank Kekewich Garton, Arthur Brailsford, Thomas Bewick Rolland, Francis Alfred Kemp, James Stanley Logan and Arthur Ernest Edward Jeffries.

The comparative statement of assets and liabilities of the Colony on December 31, 1935, shows an excess of assets over liabilities of $12,387,668.51, and total liabilities of $8,003,304.70.

COLONY FINANCES

Financial statements for the past year show that the Colony's excess of assets over liabilities on December 31, 1935, was $12,387,668.

Total revenue for the year was $28,430,549, compared with an estimate of $30,585,650. The revenue in 1934 was $28,574,285.

Expenditure for the year was $28,291,638, against an estimate of $32,556,102. In 1934, the expenditure was $31,149,155.

SAFETY FIRST

The "Gazette" contains the draft of an Ordinance to amend the Buildings Ordinance, 1935, whereby the following addition is made after sub-section (4):

"Every such owner shall arrange, preferably by a contract of maintenance with the makers or suppliers of the lift or hoist concerned, or their agents or nominees in the Colony, for regular and adequate cleaning, oiling and adjustment service at such intervals as the type of equipment and nature of the service demands. At least one in every three years the said owner shall arrange that the safety gear and governor switch, if fitted, shall be subjected to a running test under maximum load and speed conditions, under the supervision of a competent engineer, and that a certificate shall be issued to him on the result of each test, such certificate to be signed by the engineer supervising the test. Every such certificate shall be kept by such owner and presented to the Building Authority for inspection whenever demanded."

The Objects and Reasons state that the new sub-section is added to the principal Ordinance with a view to the protection of the public by providing for adequate attention to lifts and hoists. The new sub-section (5) added to that section is mainly based on the provisions of section 8 (a) and (c) of the Code of Practice for the Installation of Lifts and Escalators drafted by the Lifts and Escalators Installation Panel appointed in 1931 by the late Advisory Council for the Building Industry to review such legislation of lifts and escalators in buildings and to report on the need for the revision thereof and the form such revision should take.

Excelling in hilarious fun and in beauty of setting, anything that Marion Davies had previously presented, "Page Miss Glory," her first Cosmopolitan production released by Warner Bros., delighted enthusiastic audiences at the Star Theatre, where it opened locally yesterday.

The story of "Page Miss Glory" is this:

Marion Davies, as "Loretta Dalrymple," comes to New York and gets a job as chambermaid in the luxurious Park Regis Hotel. There she becomes friendly with Pat O'Brien, as "Cliff Wiley," a promoter with nothing to promote, and Frank McHugh as "Ed O'Brien," an out-of-work newspaper photographer.

Broke, the boys enter a contest offering a big cash prize for the photograph of the most beautiful girl in America. They make a composite picture, using one movie beauty's eyes and hair, another's nose and mouth, another's figure. They call this imaginary girl "Dawn Glory" and win the prize! But then their troubles begin. A "Dawn Glory" craze sweeps the country. There are "Dawn Glory" gowns, hats, hair-styles, beauty-treatments. Newspapers, radio systems, movie-magnates, all demand to see "Dawn Glory" and pay her enormous fees for endorsements and the like. Yet there is no "Dawn Glory."

"Loretta," the humble chambermaid, succumbs to the craze. She has her hair done in a new way, takes beauty treatments and becomes a stunning-looking girl. Meanwhile, she has adored from afar "Bingo Nelson" (Dick Powell), a dashing young aviator, with whose photographs, in the newspapers, she has fallen in love.

How Miss Davies is pressed into service as "Dawn" by O'Brien and McHugh—how she meets Powell, through them—how they and others get entangled in a mass of farcical complications—all this makes up the plot of "Page Miss Glory." Following the high standards of comedy portrayal set by Miss Davies, every member of the cast—especially Powell, O'Brien, McHugh, Miss Astor and Miss Kelly—turns in a splendid performance.

A TALE OF TWO CITIES

At The King's And Alhambra

"A Tale of Two Cities" now showing at the King's and Alhambra Theatres, revealed that despite the years and the constant repetition on both stage and screen the Dickens masterpiece has not lost its appeal.

That the well-known tale can still interest 20th century film audiences is due largely to the film's excellent handling and the carefully selected cast in which none is better chosen than Ronald Colman who plays Sydney Carton on lines, which if not strictly Dickensian, will add to the already long list of Colman admirers.

Colman's portrayal of the wasted Carton has been infused with many light touches that are so well played that they do not jar on the intensely tragic story and bring the macabre and sordid revolution scenes into sharp relief. He is assisted well in his light scenes by Reginald Owen and Billy Bevan.

Elizabeth Allen is a charming figure as Lucy and a good actress and Claude Gillingwater and Edna May Oliver are splendid in their roles.

In contrast to silent films of the same story, Charles Darnay is not a doubled part with Carton but is played in this film by Donald Woods who bears a somewhat striking resemblance to Colman. Among the many others who have much to do is Basil Rathbone, Mitchell Lewis, Henry B. Walthall, H. B. Warner and a brilliant newcomer Blanche Yurka, who as the fanatical revolutionary woman, paints a horrible picture.

"RED SALUTE"

Attracting a throng of several thousand spectators, eight hundred motion picture extras, many of them real students, stage a wild "campus riot" as part of the action of "Red Salute," the Reliance romantic comedy starring Barbara Stanwyck with Robert Young at the King's Theatre on Wednesday.

Los Angeles' famous Exposition Park, in the shadow of the Coliseum, where the 1932 Olympic Games were held, was the setting for the film demonstration. Miss Stanwyck, Young, who appears opposite her in this Edward Small production, Cliff Edwards, Gordon Jones and other personalities, sat in the outdoor audience with the extras as Hardie Albright, playing a radical agitator, "incited" the crowd to violence. The script called for Miss Stanwyck, Young and Jones to take exception to Albright's remarks and go into action in defense of Americanism.

The fight was one part of the scenario that could not be rehearsed, for Director Sidney Lanfield demanded unvarnished realism, with the scene the way he wanted it. Fists flew and chairs, eggs and padded rocks hurtled through the air. One hundred and ten suits of clothes torn to shreds, scores of bloody noses and black eyes and minor injuries requiring first aid were part of the casualties. Policemen struggling to keep back the thousands of onlookers put in an even more exciting fifteen minutes than the make-believe fusillade trying to quell the screen riot. Even though Holly-

STARS OVER BROADWAY

At The Queen's

"Stars Over Broadway" Warner Bros.' new musical spectacle, now showing at the Queen's Theatre, with an all star cast, including Pat O'Brien, James Melton, Jane Froman, Jean Muir, Frank McHugh and Frank Fay is full of fun and laughter.

The plot concerns the rise and fall, the loves, the lives and the struggles of Broadway singers with an inner glimpse of the hidden portals of the Broadway casting stations. There is a large variety of musical numbers, including new and catchy airs by Harry Warren and Al Dubin, famous song-writers, and selections from the compositions by Schubert, Verdi and Von Flotow.

Pat O'Brien and Jean Muir play opposite each other. Miss Muir also sings for the first time in films. Incidentally, this picture the love affairs of Pat O'Brien and Miss Muir have a happy ending. Both stars have been noted for their unfortunate film romances. This film introduces to the picture public two famous radio stars, James Melton and Jane Froman, who play their real life roles in the picture, that of radio entertainers. Frank McHugh plays that part of a song plugger. Others in the cast include William Ricciardi, Marie Wilson, Frank Fay, E. E. Glive and Eddie Conrad. The story by Mildred Cran is a thrilling drama, interspersed with riotous laughs and carrying a glamorous romance.

WANNA BUY A DUCK

Two years ago Joe Penner was just another vaudeville comedian travelling the circuits from coast to coast, and putting on his "Wanna buy a duck" act three times a day. To-day, after one of the most remarkable rises to stardom in recent theatrical history, Penner is one of the nation's favourite comedians, star of both radio and screen. His second picture, Paramount's "Collegiate," a cinematic festival of comedy and song, is the next attraction at the Queen's Theatre.

Penner likes Hollywood so well now that he intends making his home there. "He confesses that he went to the movie capital with a chip over his shoulder. Theatrical people had always told him that he would have to fight for everything he got in Hollywood, but now he says they were all wrong. 'I have yet,' he declares, 'to find anyone in motion pictures I don't like. Everybody in Hollywood has been swell to me.'

Penner was born in Hungary. Though he is one of the nation's favourites, Penner has never made a hit on Broadway. He was placed in two different Broadway shows, but they both flopped. Featured with him in "Collegiate" are Jack Oakie, Frances Langford, Ned Sparks and Lynne Overmarr.

INGRATE BOUND OVER

A quarrel between parents and their son, was mentioned at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday, when a Chinese, Chan Fuk, 37 years old, son of Chan Choi and Lo Tai, aged 73 and 52 respectively, described by the prosecution officer "as a scape goat," was charged before Mr. Q.A.A. Macfadyen with assaulting his parents.

It was said that the son used a chopper on his mother, but before anything serious could develop, the father interposed and knocked the weapon away. A report of the occurrence was subsequently brought to the notice of the police authorities.

The son from the prisoner's box, said that his parents had assaulted him with a pole. In binding over the accused in a bond of $50 to come up for judgment in a year, the Magistrate remarked that he was sure the accused had attacked his parents with something in his hand for them to use a pole.

SHAM POLL

At The German Club

A symbolic gesture was enacted yesterday in the German Club here, where the whole community cast their votes for the Reichstags elections. From 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. the Germans went to their Club, casting their slip in the booth which had been set up.

This voting, having taken place on non-German territory, is without any actual value for the general outcome at home, but it undoubtedly has a demonstrative significance. It was the expression of the Germans living abroad of their absolute loyalty towards the Fuehrer. It is a proof that the promises of the Fuehrer, his proposals and utterances are not only backed by those living at home, but by the entire German element in the world, thus lending unlimited guarantee to the Fuehrer's words.

Together with all fellow-Germans at home, the comparatively small community in Hong Kong solemnly stated that it would stand to the words of the Fuehrer, which are the words also of every German in Hong Kong as all over the world. With all Germans, at home and abroad, the Germans in the Colony reaffirmed to the Fuehrer of their confidence, seconded his actions and proposals, and are willing to back his promises.

Out of 151 voters three voted "No" and the rest "Yes."

ON THE S.S. "SCHARNHORST"

On Sunday, March 20 the crew and the German-passengers of the s.s. Scharnhorst were given opportunity to cast their vote for the German Reichstag election.

The Government had appointed one of the officers Election Supervisor, and the German Consulates in Hong Kong and Manila issued the election papers to the crew and the passengers.

As the vessel was outside the sovereignty sphere and in international waters, the election took place on "German soil," resulting in the outcome being, after due examination, actually considered as the total official count in the Reich.

Participation was very high, and the results were among the first made public by Radio announcement in Germany, although they are not yet known here.

The election slips, like those used at home, were headed by the significant words: Reichstag for Freedom and Peace. (W.L.)

CABLES "SWANONIS"

SEAMAN DISCHARGED

Story True But Evidence Lacking

Following his discharge by Mr. Q.A.A. Macfadyen, the Kowloon Magistrate, it was intimated at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday that the question would be dealt with departmentally in the case in which Li Sam, (40) seaman No. 45, of General Post Office launch No. 1, was charged with obtaining $29 by false pretences from Tung Fui Ching, (56), shopkeeper, of No. 32 Main Street, Aberdeen.

In discharging the accused, the Magistrate said that although it was obvious that the defendant was lying, at the same time he was not satisfied that there was sufficient evidence to convict.

The accused called two witnesses Chan Pin, coxswain of G.P.O. launch No. 1, and Chan Sum, a sailor of the same vessel, both of whom said that the accused was not on board the vessel for more than a quarter of an hour on March 21 (Friday). The accused came back to work on March 23 (Monday) when the vessel did not go to the Government slipway at Yau-mat for re-coaling but at 1 p.m. was alongside Bake Pier at Hong Kong.

At the conclusion of the case, it was intimated that the matter would be reported to the Harbor Master.

Detective Sergeant Dowman in his outline of the case on Friday said that on the morning of March 20, the complainant was in the vicinity of Wai Ching Street making enquiries for the purchase or hire of a boat. The accused approached him and took him to the Yau-mat Government Slipway and showed him two boats. The e-b was stated were for sale at $15 or $16.

Eventually a sale was agreed upon, defendant handing the complainant a slip of paper with the numbers of the boats Y2127 and Y2617 marked on it. Complainant handed over $15 and was told to return for the Inspector's signature. Returning on March 23, he was then told that the Inspector wanted $14 more, which was handed over. The accused then asked for the original receipt to be signed by the Inspector.

Two days later complainant revisited the slipway and after waiting from 1 p.m. till 7 p.m. met the accused emerging from his quarters dressed in civilian clothes. He was handed over the original on which was written in Chinese "Li Sam, received $29."

Following further delays, the complainant reported the matter to the Water Police Station. Accompanied by Detective Sergeant Riddell, the complainant returned to the slipway where the latter recognised the accused among a number of photographs.

The defendant was later arrested abroad the launch and identified.

STOLEN PROPERTY

Men Discharged

Two Chinese were brought before Mr. Q.A.A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday charged with receiving stolen property. Lai Ping Man, (38) accountant of No. 309 Shanghai Street, Yau-mat was charged with receiving a gold ring knowing it to have been stolen.

The accused pleaded that he not know the ring had been stolen, as it was brought to him by a man dressed "in a white shirt and short." The ring was actually taken from his finger, and he was asked to melt the ring down.

In answer to the Bench, Detective Sergeant Riddell said that he had no evidence to show that the accused knew the ring was stolen. The accused had obtained the ring from a juvenile dealt before the Magistrate on Saturday morning, and the ring was of English gold. In the prosecution's opinion, the accused should have made more discreet enquiries before accepting the property, which was valued at $50. Actually the accused had only paid $7 for the ring.

The accused said that he had offered to remove the stone, and was only interested in the gold.

Warning him that the next time he would not be so fortunate, the Magistrate discharged the accused, but emphasised that more stringent enquiries should be made before acceptance.

BULLIES AT WORK

Smart Sentences Imposed

Lui So (34), and Leung Hing, (21), appeared before Mr. Balfour on Saturday and pleaded guilty to the charge of demanding 50 cents from Chan Kan, a newspaper carrier.

The two defendants, together with Chau Hung (20), and Lam Sun-yin (22), also pleaded guilty to the charge of demanding with threats, one dollar from Mak Yu.

For the prosecution, Det. Sgt. Fowle stated that Chan Kan and Mak Yu had been attacked and beaten by the defendants and had therefore been obliged to accede to the demands. The complainants were employed as newspaper carriers for the Chinese newspapers and had taken papers over to Kowloon where they were distributed. The defendants had been causing a lot of trouble among the newspaper hawkers and Sgt. Fowle asked His Worship to take a serious view of the case.

Lui So had had previous convictions and was sentenced to four months, while Leung Hing, who had been previously bound over, forfeited his bond of $50 or in default to serve one month. In addition to this he was sentenced to five months.

Chau Hung and Lam Sun-yin were each sentenced to two months.

PROHIBITED PLANTS

A Chinese named Lo Wui, 55 years of age, who appeared before Mr. Q.A.A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy, on Saturday charged with the possession of roots of Azaleas (considered a prohibited plant) was bound over in the sum of $50 to come up for judgment in a year.

It will be recalled that the case was adjourned on Thursday, when it was first mentioned in court. In order to allow the accused to locate a flower dealer surnamed Chan, for whom the accused claimed he had been hired to carry the flowers.

Inspector Chester Wood said that the accused was unable to find the person. At the station he subsequently made a fresh statement that he was in fact hired by a woman and two men, which varied considerably from his original statement to the police when he alleged that he had been hired by a woman.

The Magistrate (to accused): You are bound over in $50 for 12 months. You had better warn anyone else in the market that they have possession of the valuable flowers, they will be dealt with otherwise.

The actual value of the flower was stated in court to have been $36.

The accused was however known to the people in the market.

AIR SERVICE

Hong Kong And Canton To Be Linked?

According to a Shanghai paper, which is turn culled its news from a Chinese source, a representative of the South-West Aviation Corporation and the Hong Kong Government have opened negotiations for the operation of an air service between Canton and the Colony.

The authority quoted is the "Sinwenpao" and according to tentative plans which were proposed, four round trip flights will be made daily.

It is further stated that the Hong Kong Government has referred the matter to London for approval.

Ho Yan (45) of No. 78 Temple Street, Yau-mat also appeared before Mr. Macfadyen charged with receiving a gold ring with a pearl on March 24.

When asked by the Magistrate whether it was correct to receive a ring from a youth, who was pointed out seated on the side benches in Court, the accused said that the boy was dressed in a white shirt and shorts when he came to his (accused) shop.

The Magistrate's ruling that there was no evidence to show knowledge of receiving stolen goods said to the accused "It is quite obvious you do not make inquiries at all. Discharged."

AROUND THE COURTS

UNCONVINCING

Lee Tak (28), unemployed was charged before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday with the theft of a jacket the property of Mr. Miller, wharfinger of the Kowloon Wharf and Godown Co., Ltd. The theft was stated to have taken place on March 26, when a watchman saw the accused in Mr. Miller's office. The accused was discharged because of the unconvincing evidence offered by the watchman. Detective Sergeant Riddell prosecuted. The jacket was ordered to be returned to the complainant.

RADIATOR CAP

Chuen Chung, unemployed, was on Saturday sentenced to six weeks' hard labour by Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy for the theft of a radiator cap from the car of Mr. D. Rum-jahn, which was parked outside No. 131 Wong Nel Chung Road.

OWNER WANTED

The Police are anxious to return a radiator cap to the rightful owner, which was stolen from a black car in Tai Shing Street, sometime between Wednesday and Thursday last. Correspondence should be directed to the Yau-mat Police Station.

SERVANT'S LAPSE

The theft of $34 and ten fountain pens, were preferred against Kwok Kin Fung, 20 years of age, described as a servant in the employ of the Jackson College, No. 39 Jordan Road, when he appeared before Mr. Q.A.A. Macfadyen on Saturday. Accused pleaded guilty, and was fined $50 or in default, one month's imprisonment.

Mr. Ng Jackson, the headmaster of the College bearing his name, appeared as the complainant.

The prosecuting officer said that as a result of the report received at the Yau-mat Police Station at 10 a.m. on March 27, investigations were carried out at the Jackson College, on the second floor. It was found that a money box, the padlock of which had been broken, had been removed from a book case in which it was customary to keep it. Inside the money box $34 had been removed. Access to the box had been obtained by removing a pane of glass from the book case. The accused was questioned about the theft, and he admitted perpetrating the robbery. In his quarters at the back of the school, ten fountain pens, the property of the headmaster of the school, were covered.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Women Charged

For behaving in a disorderly manner and for throwing stones at Mr. W. E. Hollands, land bailiff, at Sai Wan Ho on Friday, two women appeared before Mr. Schofield on Saturday and were fined $10 each and bound over in a bond to keep the peace for one year. The women were named Lok Po, a widow, and Wong Kuntai, a married woman.

Mr. Hollands stated that the defendants had appeared before His Worship before in connection with a charge of trespassing on Crown land, though permission had been given to another person who owed them money. The permit had expired and was not renewed. Notices had been posted up on the doors to the usual effect but they had been pulled down by the defendants.

Witness went to the house on Friday to pull down the house and was met at the door by the first defendant who would not allow the coles to begin their work. He tried to enter by pushing her aside and a general commotion started.

Meanwhile the original owner came for certain belongings which the defendant did not wish to return to him and a fight ensued. Things gradually got worse and look liked developing into a clan riot, as the friends of both sides joined in.

Stones, mud and missiles were thrown about and Mr. Hollands was struck on the arm. He handed the two defendants over to constable to stop any further trouble.

MR. DEITZ RIDES FOUR WINNERS

UPSETS GALORE AT THE VALLEY

King's Warden Sets New Record

A touch of real summer weather greeted the Second Extra Race Meeting of the Hong Kong Jockey Club on Saturday, which was featured by several upsets that benefited punters to a great extent.

Racing on the whole was of a higher standard than the previous meeting. The track was in a good state, with the result that fast going was the order of the day. King's Warden (Mr. Roza) set up a new record for the distance of about a mile and 171 yards when he clocked the time of 2.08.2, bettering the previous record of Ribble's 2.12.2 over the same distance. Electron (Mr. Deitz) equalled the record of 1.45 set up by Saucy Face over the mile distance.

Attendance was satisfactory. Dividends returned were moderate. The highest dividend paid was on Pontiac Bay, when the novice, Mr. Choy Wing Chiu piloted the mount in for a third place in the Taiwan Bay Handicap to pay its 14 backers $164.10 each. Other high dividends of the day were: Tiny Star (Mr. Deitz) $68.80, Sadko (Mr. P. P. Botelho) $67.70 and Miracle (Mr. Pih) $62.30 all for wins. Cash sweep dividends were also on the high side. The highest paid during the day was in the last race when the first prize realised $1,547. Only 47 punters were successful in backing the Daily Double and were each rewarded with $78.50.

Mr. N. Deitz carried off the riding honours when he rode four winners and was placed second once and incidentally made his "hat trick" while next to him came Mr. H. C. Pih who obtained two firsts and a third. Mr. G. U. da Roza had a first, and two seconds. Mr. F. F. Li the novice jockey graduated from that class when he rode his tenth winner on Mayflower in the Commonwealth Handicap race for novices.

PONTIAC BAY PAYS $164.10 FOR A PLACE

COLONIAL STAKES

Bright sunny weather greeted the five starters as they trotted along the track to the mile post for the Colonial Stakes. The track was in good condition, and should help the mounts a good deal in their going attendance at the start was only moderate. Laughing Girl took the lead with Old Star, Tyne, Amberley, and Miracle following in the order named. The positions were unchanged until the half mile post when Amberley came up to second place. Round the quarter mile bend the ponies were bunched together, and on the stretch a great struggle took place for supremacy. Laughing Girl, Amberley, Tyne were going neck to neck and when 200 yards more or so to go Miracle came up nicely and took the lead, from Laughing Girl by a short head which lead was maintained to the finish. Tyne took up the third position.

ROSEHILL PLATE

Mr. Deitz on Honey led all the way, eventually winning the race by two lengths from Ranger, who was left standing at the start. Zodiac the hot favourite was unplaced. As Honey led all the way Violet Queen and Zodiac were trailing behind. On the stretch Ranger came up nicely but was unable to make up for the lost ground and had to be content with second place.

MIRS BAY HANDICAP

All eight entries faced the starter for the Mrs Bay Handicap for "A" Class ponies. The mounts got off at a very fast pace. At the rate the pace was set another record will go by the board. Soldier of Britain led right from the start up to the last quarter. King's Warden obtained the second place with Macaroni and Herod following in the rear. At the last quarter Cossack's Beauty came up and by now King's Warden had gone further up. On the home stretch a titanic struggle ensued between these two ponies and a little later Diana Bay joined in. Gradually King's Warden obtained the ascendancy and Diana Bay although going all out lost to King's Warden by a neck. A new record was created by the winner—2.08.2—bettering the record set up by Ribble of 2.12.2.

SUB-GRIFFINS SPRING HANDICAP

Another upset was created when Bistre the favourite was placed third. Mr. Deitz on Tiny Star—a rank outsider—ramped home winner to pay its 143 backers $68.80 each.

Wadebridge took the lead at the start followed by Racing Boy and Lucky Strike. By the time the half mile post was reached Bistre had come up to the second position. Several ponies were bunched together on the home stretch and Tiny Star coming up from the rear took the lead as several other ponies were trying to get out of each other's way. Wadebridge was second being on a neck ahead of Bistre. Mr. Deitz's win was a popular one.

COMMONWEALTH HANDICAP
The first leg of the Daily Double saw Mr. F. F. Li graduating from the Novice class when he ably piloted Mayflower home for a win and incidentally displacing the hot favourite King's Sceptre. Zero who led at the beginning was unable to stand up to the fast pace and was soon overhauled. On the home stretch found King's Sceptre leading but not for long when like a bolt from the blue out-shot Mayflower to win by half a length. Flybynight annexing third place.

CALIOPE HANDICAP
Mr. N. Deitz obtained his third win of the day when he brought Electron home three lengths ahead of the second favourite Strathroy. Strathroy who led from the commencement was overhauled by the winner at the last quarter when Mr. Deitz forged his mount ahead to win comfortably. Strathroy was second being two lengths ahead of Snowy River. Electron's time of 1.45 equalled the record set up by Saucy Face.

TAIWAN BAY HANDICAP
The six furlongs dash for the second leg of the Daily Double attracted a rather large field, no less than 16 ponies being entered. Mr. Deitz rode his fourth win of the day as he piloted Rousseau home for a win. Hopscotch led followed Double Chance. The last quarter of the race saw the ponies bunched together and it was not long when Rousseau shot to the front followed by Philanderer and Ythan. The ponies finished in the order named. Two lengths separated the ponies.

HONGKONG BAY HANDICAP
Harvest View and King's Jubilee took to the front as Soldier of China followed at the end. Sadko took over the leadership at the last quarter and came home an easy winner upsetting the "applecart" again when Rose Queen the favourite was unplaced. Mistake Bay came in second while the 14 backers for place on Pontiac Bay received $164.10 each.

UNION PLATE
Rugby Star and Fidelity went "hay wire" before the start. Both ponies made a bolt in the wrong direction, in consequence of which the start of the race had to be delayed for a while. Heriot led followed by Shamrock and Cassius. Near the last quarter the ponies were well up together and on the home stretch saw another of those close finishes when Gorilla came up challenged by Gold Sovereign and Stopwatch. The ponies finished in the order named. At short head and a head separated the winners.

WEDDING BELLS

Ceremony at Kowloon Union Church

MITCHELL-MARSHALL

An indication of the popularity of the bride and groom was the huge crowd which packed the Union Church at Kowloon on Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Miss Sarah Ferguson Marshall Maitland Mitchell and Mr. Adam Marshall. Even the gallery was filled and several people remained outside.

After the ceremony Pipe Major W. C. L. Mackie piped the bridal party from the Church to the Kowloon Dock Recreation Club, a distance of over a mile, preceding the couple in the rumble seat of a motor car.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. J. D. MacLean who performed his first marriage ceremony since his arrival in the Colony several months ago.

The bride arrived at the church accompanied by her father, Mr. G. N. Mitchell of Kowloon Docks. She wore an ivory satin gown trimmed with diamonds, a lace veil which had been sent from England for the occasion and carried a bouquet of white lilies tied with a Stewart tartan ribbon. Both bride and bridegroom are members of the Stewart clan.

Miss Maizie Tillery, bridesmaid, was in a blue moire dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Elsy Morrison, flower girl, made a piquant figure in a period dress of primrose taffeta. Mrs. Mitchell, the bride's mother, was in a gown of bottle green velvet.

For her going away dress the bride chose a blue and white patterned georgette dress with a navy blue wool-backed satin coat.

The bridegroom, who is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Marshall of Radnor Park, Clydebank, Scotland, was attended by Mr. W. Forsyth as best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Kowloon Docks where more than 150 attended including the manager of the Docks, Mr. E. Cock and Mrs. Cock.

PALMER-FISCHER

At the Registry Office in the Supreme Court on Saturday morning Mr. Edward Palmer, master of the motorship Silver Cypress and son of the late Mr. Sidney Rand Palmer, was married to Miss Anita Garibaldi Fischer, daughter of Mr. Leo Fischer, chief translator in the Executive Bureau of Manila.

After the ceremony a reception was held on the Silver Cypress.

A CORRECTION

Summary Action

The following information was received for publication:—

Although the recent reports of the action in the Supreme Court by Mr. Wong Yun Sheung against Messrs. Chau & Lee, architects, for the return of 200 shares in Hong Kong Tramways Ltd., were not inaccurate, we are instructed to bring the following facts to your notice for publication in fairness to the Defendants:—

1.—Mr. H. C. Macnamara, Counsel for the Plaintiff, in his opening informed the Court that there was no question of misconduct or dishonesty on the part of the Defendants, and that the dispute concerned only the question of whether or not the Defendants had made a mistake in saying that the shares should not be returned on a certain date, and that in fact the shares had been returned some months before the trial. (This is omitted from your report).

2.—The Defendants had no direct interest in the action which they depended on the express instructions and only after having obtained a full indemnity from the building owner.

DIRECTION OF DEFENCE

Concerning the control and the direction of our defences there is a good deal of anxiety which bitter experience of the late War may be held to justify. Generally speaking, students of war are to see our defensive forces consolidated in one striking arm, and they point to the fact that in Germany, in Russia, in Italy and indeed in France that consolidation is already accomplished, so that all arms would conform in time of war to the main plan of campaign. In Great Britain, on the other hand, the Navy and the Army have for centuries led a separate existence, and in some unhappy cases we have seen evidence of open hostility between the two Services. What complicates matters still more is the development of the new arm of the air, so that there are not two but three separate forces with separate Ministries to be considered, and this new factor adds force to the arguments of those who desire co-ordination of forces and unity of action. Rear-Admiral Suter gives practical point to these views in his Bill to create a Ministry of Defence, which will be considered in the House of Commons. We shall certainly hope a speech from Mr. Winston Churchill on a subject of which he has had some practical experience, and the remark dropped by Mr. Baldwin suggests that the Government also will express its views, so that we may expect, if not a decision, at least a statement of the general aspects of the case. It is certainly not a matter upon which decision is easy.

We do not propose to go into the history of the case or dwell upon various and painful disasters due to lack of unity of control in the past. We may, however, point out that in practice a system has been evolved. The Committee of Imperial Defence existed before the Great War; during the War it came more and more into use, and since the War it has increased its powers, has been more regularly constituted, and has done, no doubt, some excellent work. Whether such a Committee, with the Prime Minister as Chairman, is the ideal solution is open to doubt; but we must at least be careful not to scrap a working arrangement until we are sure of something better. The ideal of welding the three arms under one Minister is certainly attractive, and we do not consider it to be impossible, provided that the right man can be found. There are, however, political difficulties which stand in the way. A Minister of Defence would have to be given power to override the Admiralty, the War Office and the Air Ministry, to do which effectively would require the reduction of the three Secretaries of State to the rank of Under-Secretaries, a change which would not be relished by the politicians. But the Minister of Defence, if he were himself a politician and a civilian might have to resolve problems beyond his powers. Take the case, for example, of the preparation of some plan of campaign in which the three Services collaborated. The Army and the Navy, let us say, were agreed upon an expedition; but the Air Force took the view that such an operation was unnecessary or impossible, or advanced their own power as an effective substitute. In such a case the Minister of Defence would have to take a decision on the contrary views of experts, which might involve the very existence of the country.

Various compromises are suggested. One is to have a Minister of Defence without portfolio but in the Cabinet, who would preside over the Committee of Imperial Defence and thus take this burden off the overburdened shoulders of the Prime Minister. In that case how would the three Secretaries of State—Admiralty, War Office and Air Ministry—fit into the scheme? Perceiving the difficulty, another school of thought would exclude the Minister of Defence from the Cabinet and even from Parliament, a solution which takes no account of

If Gossip We Must

(By "LOOKER ON")

Commodore and Mrs. Sedgwick gave one of the best cocktail parties of the year last Friday on board H.M.S. Tamar. The deck was very gaily decorated with flags and red and white lanterns, and the Hermes band played during the evening for dancing. Everybody you could think of was there, quite 500 people or more so I was told later. Many of the people came dressed as they were going on to the Dinner and Dance at the Peninsula Hotel in aid of the Hong Kong Benevolent Society which was a very excellent show and very well attended. Commodore and Mrs. Sedgwick received all the guests on arrival. Mrs. Sedgwick as charming and gracious as always. Captain and Mrs. O'Flynn were to be seen, also Surgeon Captain and Mrs. Ferguson. Miss Mignon McClay, dressed for dancing was most attractive in white with a small pearl halo which suited her so well. Mrs. Currie, another fairly recent arrival in the Colony, came with her husband, Mrs. Coltart in black lace was later to be seen dancing at the Peninsula. Mrs. Oram was another who favoured black with a smart black hat. Mrs. Croucher who is always so chic was there in black and white; she and her husband will be much missed in Hong Kong when they go on leave next month but we hope to see them back before very long. Heather Gerrard came with her mother looking very sweet in pale pink and Mrs. Gerrard favoured navy blue. Altogether it was a most enjoyable party which will be remembered for a long time.

What a very gay and busy week, parties every day, the arrival and departure of the first direct Air Mail to and from Hong Kong, and last but not least an improvement in the weather which we have been awaiting for a long time, and every one seems to have taken on a new lease of life. The week started on Sunday evening with the very excellent band concert given by the East Lancashire Regiment in the lounge of the Peninsula Hotel. A large number of people were there to enjoy the fine programme of music which had been arranged for them. We hope that we shall have the privilege of listening to them again in the near future.

At last our much talked of direct Air Mail from England has been inaugurated in Hong Kong our dreams were realised on Tuesday last at 11.30 a.m. when we saw the Dorado flying over the harbour with an escort from one of the R.A.F. Squadrons. The first person to alight was the passenger, who was followed shortly after by Captain Lock and Mr. Thomas who were immediately congratulated by H. E. the Governor who awaited the arrival of the Dorado at Kai Tak. Wing Commander and Mrs. Bishop were amongst a number of people who were at the Airport that morning. Mrs. Bishop was looking extremely smart and attractive in an ensemble of pink and brown with a large pink hat to match. Mrs. Mullins came with her brother Mr. Macgregor. Mrs. Murray attired in navy and white came with her husband, and Mrs. Lock looking a little shy awaited her husband away from the crowd who gathered round the Dorado.

In the evening a most successful and enjoyable cocktail party was held at the Peninsula by Imperial Airways Ltd., Captain Lock and Mr. Thomas being the guests of honour. Mrs. Lock was busy receiving all the guests and a large number of people attended. Wing Commander and Mrs. Keary were there, Wing Commander Bishop too but we were

QUIET WEDDING AT REGISTRY

A quiet wedding was solemnised at the Registry on Saturday when Miss Christina Lennart was united in the bonds of marriage with Mr. F. C. sorry not to see Mrs. Bishop also Mr. and Mrs. Murray, the latter in brown and emerald green. Mrs. Philip Smith in a cocktail ensemble of fuschia in that new and attractive fancy, crepe was looking very pretty. Mrs. Sheldon, who it is nice to see back in Hong Kong again was extremely smart in a black coat and skin with a white blouse and small black hat. Miss Jeffries came with her mother, and Mrs. Price was in an evening dress of pale blue with a small white fur cape. Altogether it was a most delightful party and everybody enjoyed it so much that they were very reluctant to leave even at a late hour.

(By "ONLOOKER")

Such a delightful cocktail party, such an interesting occasion, and such clever people as hosts and guests! The party was in honour of Mr. M. J. Breen, the popular Chairman of the Hong Kong Broadcasting Committee who sailed for Home leave in the "Empress of Britain" on Wednesday, the hosts were the aforesaid committee, and the guests were mainly artists whose voices—or instruments—are well known to Z.B.W. listeners.

When I arrived—rather late as usual—the room seemed to be full of artistic celebrities! "Peter Simple" jovial as ever, was greeting "D.E.A." by her studio name which seemed to please her a lot—nice if we could all loose our dull domestic identities, and only appear as our public sees (or hears) us! Miss Dunnett—that popular secretary—was busy greeting her guests, assisted by her number two, Miss Billing.

Announcers—of both sexes—were much in evidence. Mrs. Brown, looking charming as ever in a dark dress with a becoming jabot effect, managed to get away from the A.D.C. rehearsal with the greatest difficulty. We are looking forward to seeing her, by the way, in the forthcoming production about the end of next month.

Mrs. Rickett—very pretty in blue—was talking literary matters to a certain amateur journalist, and Mr. Alastair Drummond and "D.E.A." were discussing recent books with great animation.

"Auntie Nora"—the popular children's hour star—arrived looking most attractive, and carrying a bouquet of flowers. Miss Cotton the headmistress of Quarry Day school looked nice as ever. Then there were others—amongst them Mr. Mamamara, Professor Simpson, Mr. Arthur Lay, and Lt. Commander Crockett, the last named departs from our midst—alas—early next month. He is going to join the world cruise of the "Empress of Britain" in Japan, and we wish him the very happiest of voyages.

Mr. Butters the new Postmaster General, who will also take over Z.B.W. was with Mr. and Mrs. Carrie, and I noticed Mr. Keith Robinson has acquired a fine summer man already. What it is to live in a lovely house at Repulse Bay with no Peak fog to spoil the sun rays.

At seven o'clock sharp our hosts ushered us into the sacred precincts of the actual studio, and after we were all in, and quiet as proverbial mice, the red light went on, and the announcer of the evening told listeners what was going on. Then Mr. Stewart Smith spoke aptly in appreciation of the guest of honour and Miss Dunnett followed it up with a few well-chosen words, presenting Mr. Breen with a lovely silver cigarette case with his initials, and "Z.B.W. Calling" inscribed on the other side. Mr. Breen—although quite

One of the smartest girls seen dancing that evening was Miss Pamela Dodwell who wore a lovely dress of midnight blue, Mrs. Morris was in a party with her daughter Sylvia—the latter looking delightful in white and cherry colour.

The Cavanagh Mainwaring's were dancing together looking as nice as ever, and Miss Heather Gerrard looked deliciously ethereal in pale pink taffeta.

Noreen Cooper was smart in a white satin cocktail blouse with a black skirt, and later on her sister came in too with another party looking incredibly like Noreen—no doubt about their relationship.

We were all agog to see Gladys and Kusserow perform after all we have heard of them, and they lived up to expectations, and a lot more! Never has "Onlooker" seen such perfect technique and grace in a Hong Kong cabaret. Long may they stay in our midst!

unprepared—made a charming reply of thanks, and told us in company with all the listeners how he would certainly respond to the call, and would look forward to coming back to Hong Kong.

Then Mr. Lindsay Lafford struck up the opening bar of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow", and we all roared out our unanimous sentiments by means of the song, and finished off with "Three cheers and The Tiger" with such vigour that the microphone must have been in considerable danger!

ZEPPELINS PROVIDE BIGGEST THRILL

Hitler's Final Appeal On Election Eve

Berlin, March 28.

Polling will begin at 8 o'clock in the morning and close at six in the evening. Berlin's biggest thrill in the campaign came this afternoon when the two giant airships Hindenburg and Graf Zeppelin circled over several times dropping tiny parachutes with Swastika flags and a shower of handbills to the watching crowds and then disappeared to return in the dark to provide an even more impressive spectacle in the brilliant flood-lighting and rays of many searchlights.

Meanwhile huge cheering crowds of Storm Troops, Black Guards and Hitler's Boys and Girls gathered in the streets of Cologne to see the Chancellor and hear his final election appeal which was broadcast throughout Germany. Pealing church bells all over the country announced the beginning and end of the speech, after which the old Dutch thanksgiving hymn "Praying the God of Battles to save Germany from her Enemies" was broadcast and sung by millions of Germans.

"We know our strength cannot be lost through internal strife but only through external conflict," declared Chancellor Hitler. He said that Germany hoped the mad campaign of all against all would cease, but it was impossible to build a new world on sterile views of senile statesmen and jurists. It must be based on the common sense of the peoples.

The Chancellor complained that when Germany stretched out her hand others merely talked about phrases, gestures and symbolic acts. "If they cannot understand us we must persevere to show them that we on no account are prepared to yield one inch of our land, but our love for peace is beyond doubt," he declared.—Reuter

ENTHUSIASTIC SCENES AT COLOGNE

Rhineland's Welcome To The Chancellor

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special) Cologne, March 28.

Scenes of unparalleled enthusiasm greeted Chancellor Hitler on his arrival at Cologne on Saturday afternoon. As the Chancellor emerged from the station accompanied by Dr. Goebbels and Ley, and took his seat in a waiting car, boys and girls of the National Socialist youth organisations showered handfuls of spring flowers into the car, while the Blackcoat guards had difficulty in restraining the excited spectators.

The city itself was completely transformed during the day in feverish preparations which preceded the Chancellor's visit, the characteristic contours of the streets having quite disappeared under a sea of thousands of Swastika flags and garlands of evergreens, which were trimmed around the lamp posts and poles and festooned over the house fronts along the whole eight kilometres of streets through which the Chancellor passed and which was lined by a double cordon numbering half a million men. The Cathedral was in sympathy in scarlet and green decorations with two giant Swastika flags flying from the spire at a height of 300 feet.

DEPUTATIONS RECEIVED

The Chancellor's first destination was the historic Guerszenich Hall where he received deputations of the professions and trades from the seven regions of the Rhineland which had come to express gratitude for the re-entry of the troops into the de-militarized zone.

Hitler, who was accompanied by War Minister Blomberg, Commander-in-Chief of the Army, Fritsch, and Minister of the Interior, Frick, thanked the representatives of Rhineland's 15 million inhabitants for their devotion and sacrifices. "The Reich takes you under its protection again," he said, "and I consider it the greatest moment in my life that providence has selected me to carry out this task."

The culminating point of the day's events in Cologne will be the mass meeting in the Exhibition Hall at Deutz on the opposite side of the Rhine, where Hitler will deliver his last speech in the election campaign.—Transocean News Service

SURVEY OF DEEPLY UNHAPPY TIME

Hitler Recalls The War

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special) Cologne, March 28.

Speaking to a crowd that packed the Exhibition Hall at Deutz on Saturday evening, Chancellor Hitler, Germany's Iron Man, delivered a speech which formed the climax of weeks of intensive election propaganda.

The Chancellor began with a survey of the "deeply unhappy time when the few German troops marched back over the Rhine bridge into a country which at that time no longer deserved an army. We had gone to war with a feeling that it was through no fault of our own but were just simply compelled by the fatal course of events. War came to an end and robbed our nation of all it had so painstakingly acquired. I was also among those who despaired at that time. A half-blinded soldier in hospital, tormented by fearful anxiety for Germany's future, in despair at our own weakness, faults and mistakes which had led us into this war. But one thing was clear: new paths had to be found and sought and a new spirit of the community had to take the place of the dismemberment. Party creeds, and state governments had to disappear to enable the mighty tasks of these times to be mastered.

GREATER UNITY

"In 1933 the foundation for the reconstruction of the Reich was created with the instrument of the National Socialist movement, which had honestly earned the right to leadership of the nation. We had the task of creating a greater unity. I know I had hurt millions of German Nationalists, I know I have hurt millions of International Socialists in Germany, who were also Germans. It had to happen. Some one had to come to put the greater German unity in place of disruption. I tried to do it!"

"Perhaps our former political opponents had the intention to tackle the difficult questions. I do not say that they had not, but they did not possess the enormous power of millions in harmony, the fascinating power of a nation."

The Chancellor then proceeded to review the international situation, declaring that the question of whether Germans are capable of keeping treaties was entirely unjustified. "We have waited 17 years in vain," he continued, "for others to fulfil their equally sacred treaties. The German nation can never be reproached with not abiding by treaties. It will always keep any treaty signed on equal terms, and I will add here that we will never again sign a treaty except of our own free will and as equal partners."

HORRORS OF WAR

"What we want is not a dictatorship of a Bolshevik world but a European reign of law and order. We offer our hand to other peoples without any mental reservations and this hand is the hand of a nation of 87 million. There is no need of repeating time and again that we want peace and love peace. The reason I am frantically devoted to peace is that I came to know war better than many of my international opponents. I have lived through the horrors of war as a simple soldier. I want peace and I offer my hand to others. And I demand of you, my people, that you join me and back me up in both these aims."

"We fought three years of the nation's honour, freedom and equality and now I must advance proof that this struggle has not been that of a single person but of an entire nation."

The Chancellor concluded the speech amid thunderous applause which lasted several minutes.—Transocean News Service

ITALIAN ROYAL AIR FORCE

Anniversary Parade Ceremony

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special) Rome, Mar. 28.

On the occasion of the 13th anniversary on the foundation of the Italian Royal Air Force, an air parade took place on Saturday at Littoria aerodrome in the presence of Signor Mussolini, the Hungarian Premier, Goemboes and many other prominent personalities. The Secretary of State in the Air Ministry, General Valle, declared in a speech that since the opening of the African campaign 14 flight officers, 26 non-commissioned officers and nine other members of the Air Force lost their lives in action.

Il Duce subsequently announced the names of 28 of these fliers who had been posthumously awarded gold, silver or bronze medals for bravery, the medals to be worn by their nearest relatives. Twenty further medals were awarded to pilots now serving at the front.

After delivering a short address, Il Duce reviewed 212 bombing planes of the latest Savoia type.—Transocean Special Service

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special) Berlin, Mar. 28.

All eyes in Berlin were pointed skywards at 4.30 on Saturday afternoon when the citizens of the German capital had the opportunity of seeing the new airship Hindenburg for the first time since its completion.

The new Zeppelin was followed at a short distance by its eight-year-old stable companion Graf Zeppelin, and the two mighty giants of the air provided an impressive sight as they circled over the city only a few hundred feet above the housetops.

Over the principal squares were showered election leaflets, and Swastika flags attached to parachutes were thrown over. Radio messages from the airship Hindenburg were relayed by the broadcast station which announced that after visiting neighbouring cities they would return to Berlin on Saturday about 10 p.m.—Transocean Special Service

VELCHEFF AND STANCHEFF

To Undergo Life Imprisonment

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special) Sofia, Mar. 28.

Death sentences passed by court martial on February 22 last upon Colonel Damian Velcheff and Major Cyril Stancheff for their part in the coup d'etat on May 19, 1934 have been commuted by King Boris to life long imprisonment. Many influential circles in Bulgaria had made an urgent request for the two condemned men who could, however, only be prevailed upon with some difficulty to sign a petition for clemency. King Boris being able to exercise his prerogative of mercy only at the recommendation of the Court or on receiving a petition from the condemned persons.

The Court had refused to recommend clemency but after the death sentences had been recently confirmed by the Higher Court, a petition for mercy was finally signed by the prisoners and the King has now acted upon it.

Colonel Velcheff has been for many years the stormy petrel of Bulgarian politics, having been the principle actor in the coup d'etat in 1923 when the peasant dictator, Stambulski, was assassinated, and also was the moving spirit in the coup d'etat in May 1934 when troops surrounded the Royal Palace and forced the King to appoint a Military Cabinet. Major Stancheff was the chief assistant in carrying out the last mentioned coup d'etat.—Transocean Special Service

GENERAL STAFF DISCUSSIONS

British Attitude Explained

London, March 28.

Mr. Eden explained that the talks will be held as a result of Britain's commitments under the Locarno Treaty and would therefore be held irrespective of Germany's reply to the Locarno proposals, but will be confined to arranging technical conditions wherein the obligations of the signatories to the treaty should be carried out in case of unprovoked aggression.

It was emphasised that the talks will be conducted under the strict control of the Cabinet.—Reuter

ELECTION MORNING IN GERMAN CITIES

No Opportunity Given To Oversleep

Berlin, March 29.

The inhabitants of Berlin and other cities were given no opportunity to oversleep and forget the election. The streets from 7 o'clock in the morning onwards resounded with the blare of brass bands, the tramp of marching Black Guards and Brown Shirts, the rattle of numerous lorries packed with voters, and the shouts and songs of the crowds.

The election may be described as a "brown" election for Brown Shirts were everywhere in the streets, outside and inside the booths. Curious methods were employed to ensure the people to do their duty. For instance, the public were given a gilt badge after the vote had been cast and the badge was worn in the button-hole. Nobody without a badge was admitted to the racing and other sports amusements in the afternoon.

The election was favoured with bright sunshine. Chancellor Hitler and Dr. Goebbels returned to Berlin at 10 a.m. from Cologne and voted immediately. It is estimated that seventy per cent. voted by 1 p.m.

It is expected that Chancellor Hitler will announce Germany's new proposals as regards the Locarno problem on Tuesday before the newly-elected Reichstag, if technically possible to convene it at such short notice.—Reuter

Newspapers launched on Sunday forenoon their final appeals to electors. The "Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung," stresses the economic advantages to be had from a lasting European peace. Rome, Mar. 28.

Italy has no fear of oil sanctions, states the Ministry of Marine. There is enough oil for the Navy for a long time, and for any emergency.

During February Italy's importation of oil from Rumania, which is her main avenue of supply, dropped to 37,500 tons, but during this month it increased again and on March 24, 7,000 tons were exported from Constanta alone.—Reuter's Bulletin Service

K.C.C. SECURES CRICKET CHAMPIONSHIP

Mackay And Lee In The Limelight

By defeating the University Senior eleven convincingly in their last cricket league game of the season, the Kowloon Cricket Club secured the senior championship, being one point ahead of their nearest rival the Indians.

On Saturday the University won the toss and their captain, E. L. Gosano, elected to bat, and the visitors proceeded to score 173 runs for the loss of only 4 wickets, N.A.E. Mackay being top-scorer with 74 not out, which included 13 boundaries.

The University at one stage looked as though they would be able to force a draw, but after Blake was out the rest of the batsmen offered no resistance and were all out for 86 runs. R. Lee taking 5 wickets for six runs apiece.

In the other senior game the Civil Servants proved their superiority over the Hong Kong Club when they won with six wickets to spare. A feature of this game was the century made by J. E. Richardson.

In the only junior league game played the K.C.C. easily accounted for the Undergraduates by nine wickets.

ARMY BEAT THE KOWLOON C.C.

Century By Perse

In an hour of hurricane hitting at the K.C.C. yesterday, Army batsmen knocked the tired home bowlers all over the field, winning the game by nearly 100 runs and with five wickets still in hand.

Early disaster overtook the Army when, a few minutes after four, Prichard and Williams opened their innings in response to the K.C.C. 106. Prichard was caught without scoring, but Perse joined Williams and the pair played the long handle to such good effect that an hour later when Perse retired at 108 the score stood at 159. Perse was particularly aggressive and hit four after four. Bowlers suffered tremendously, one over from Perry yielding 18. There were no maiden overs. Garthwaite later carried on the leather hunt and retired at 58.

EXHIBITION TENNIS

Players Disappoint

The tennis which was offered to the public on Saturday by the Chinese Davis Cup players at the stand court of the Hong Kong Cricket Club was not very inspiring. The heat may have had a great deal to do with the play, all the players seemed to be affected by it at some time or the other.

Kho Sin-kie, the Chinese National Champion, and Gordon Lum partnered against W. C. Choy and Tsui Wai-pui in the first doubles match. The former pair won the match which was devoid of anything interesting except for some volleying duels between Lum and Choy. Kho and Lum have very good services and exploited this to advantage. Tsui was disappointed.

Kho then opposed Tsui in a Singles game and won easily by the score of 6/0, 6/1.

S. A. Rumjahn was then opposed to W. C. Choy. The heat was obviously telling on Choy and "Sirdar" forced the pace throughout. Choy was content to play from the base-line with an occasional advance to the net. These tactics were suitable to Rumjahn and he finally won the match by the score of 6/3, 6/2.

The final match of the exhibition was a doubles tussle between Kho and Lum versus Rumjahn and Tsui. In this game the Colony pair hardly had a chance against the deadly overhanging of Kho and the excellent volleying of Lum.

The score was 6/0, 6/1.
Kho Sin-kie, Gordon Lum and W. C. Choy, left the Colony for Europe by the m.v. Victoria on Saturday evening, and will be joined in Paris by Guy Cheng, who is at present in the United States.

AT C.S.C.C.

Six courts were used in an enjoyable tennis tournament which was played at the Civil Service Cricket Club at Happy Valley yesterday, when twenty-two players vied against each other. The tournament was run in two series for the ladies and men respectively.

Mrs. Fowles with 37 games to her credit took the first place for Ladies, with Mrs. Collyer second (32 games).

In the men's event, Mr. Pengally (33 games) was first and Mr. Fowles by annexing 32 games took second place.

Mrs. Fowles won a silver spoon presented by Mr. and Mrs. Bendall, while Mr. Pengally won a silver spoon presented by Mr. and Mrs. Routledge. The runners-up also were given silver spoons presented by the Club.

On Easter Sunday, a tennis tournament run on a Mixed Doubles plan will be held, and as equally an enjoyable time is anticipated by all. The tournament will commence at 3 p.m. and good support should be forthcoming.

PORTUGAL DOES IT

WINS INTERNATIONAL HOCKEY ENCOUNTER

England's Second Unsuccessful Quest

As anticipated, Portugal yesterday won the local International Hockey Tournament, when they defeated England on the Naval ground at King's Park, in a fast and interesting game by the only goal scored.

The winners owed much of their success to the splendid combination of their forward line who continually harassed a hard worked English defence. A. P. Souza, the Kowloon Indians Tennis Club left winger, made an auspicious debut as centre forward in the Portuguese attack, and on his shoulders must fall the honours of the day for he was a decided success in his new position and was instrumental in getting the one and only goal, which sealed victory for the Portuguese.

The goal came midway through the second half, and although the English attack tried hard for the equaliser they failed, due in the main to the brilliant goalkeeping of U. B. Souza, who brought off some miraculous saves.

The same may be said of A. B. Owens (Navy) the English custodian. With the exception of his one fatal error, he played a creditable game between the sticks, and but for his keeping, which was of a high order, Portugal would have scored at least four more goals.

GOOD FORWARD MOVEMENT
The Portuguese possessed an enterprising forward line, backed up by stalwart halves in Goncalves (Recreo) Oliveira (University) and Beltrao (Recreo).

In A. Silva (Recreo) and E. L. Gosano (University) they had a safe pair of backs who cleared time and again while under pressure, and especially in the second half when the English forwards made repeated and determined efforts to wrest the game from out of the fire, these two players in collaboration with U. B. Souza won rounds of applause from the large crowd present for the timely clearances.

In the English team, A. B. Owens (Navy) played the game of his life in goal. Bandsman F. Cox (Army) was the steadier of the two backs on display, but J. E. Potter (Club) worked hard.

ENGLISH DEFENCE WEAK

Compared to their opponents, the English half back line did not show up in the same light. Lt. J. P. Williams (Army) and Lt. J. Farmer (Y.M.C.A.) and (C.B.A.) right and left halves respectively, had off days and could not hold the nippy Portuguese wingers. W. A. Reed (Club) at centre half was his brilliant self, and with better support a different tale might have been told.

Lt. C. C. Garthwaite (Army) tried hard in the forward line but a common fault was his aptitude to hit the ball too far forward for S. A. Fowler (Club) on the wing to receive. G. E. R. Divett (Club) at centre forward brightened up considerably in the closing stages of the game, but Flight-Lt. Lascelles (R.A.F.) Lt. Wraith (Navy), left wing combination cannot be said to have been a successful one.

PORTUGAL SCORES

The first half saw both goalkeepers having a comparatively easy time of it, but after the rest, the game took on a different complexion. Both Owens and Souza brought off splendid saves, until A. P. Souza netted. The final whistle blew with Portugal attacking.

The teams were as follows:—
Portugal:—U. B. Souza, A. Silva and E. L. Gosano (Capt.); J. Goncalves, L. Oliveira and N. Beltrao; E. T. Gosano, J. Nolasco, A. P. Souza, V. M. Pito, and A. Angelo.
England:—A. B. Owens; J. E. Potter, and Bds. F. Cox; Lieut. J. P. Williams (Capt.), W. A. Reed and J. Farmer; S. A. Fowler, Lieut. C. C. Garthwaite, G. E. R. Divett, Flight-Lt. Lascelles and Sub-Lieut. Wraith.

The referees were Capt. G. W. McKensie, 0-34, Lay 1-23, Goodwin 0-18, Smith 0-30.
F. Goodwin, c. Herbert, b. Garthwaite 0-10.

CHINA TOO GOOD FOR PORTUGAL

Wins "Sunday Herald" Cup

Football over the week-end was a great success from the Chinese point of view. All the Chinese teams registered victories, the best of which was the defeat of the Police by South China "A." South China "B" swamped the R.A. (Stonecutters) to the tune of six goals to one. The Navy beat Recreo by the odd goal in three which score merely emphasises their well-known inability to take chances when they are offered to them.

The best game of all was that of yesterday, which incidentally was the only one to be played, and that was the final of the "Sunday Herald" International Cup. China met Portugal and playing football that is best described by the score, won by six goals to one. These two teams met last year in the final, China winning by two goals to nil, and their victory yesterday puts China on level footing with Scotland, they also having won the cup four times since the inception of the competition.

Great Day For Chinese Teams

CHINA'S DESERVED VICTORY

Bright weather attracted tremendous crowds to Soekunpoo yesterday to witness the final of the "Sunday Herald" Charity Cup. The stands were packed to capacity, the surrounding hills and houses came in for their share of the congestion.

The game was really good. The players swinging the ball from end to end and providing the spectators with thrill after thrill. There were no serious infringements of the rules, the sparkle and dash with which the players attacked each other in the true spirit of the game, made it a splendid game.

It is true that the play was rather one-sided, but Portugal came in for their share of the game and instigated more than one very spirited attack. In fact Portugal scored the first goal and this was not the result of a lucky shot. This was the only goal that Portugal registered, and coming early in the game augured well for the change that had been made in that A. V. Gosano was leading the attack and scored this goal. Portugal's forwards were nevertheless lacking in the dash that characterised the Chinese forward line. The wings were, in this respect, a distinct drawback to the others. They seemed rather inclined to shrink, tacking their opponents at the critical times.

The defences of both teams had the advantage of the opposing forwards. Even though the score for the Chinese was high it was not the fault of the Portuguese defence. One and all of the goals scored were fine goals and the results of initiative and judgment. Fung King-cheung, in this respect, was brilliant, scoring no less than four of the six goals. Lee Wai-tong could do little without having two or three of Portugal's defenders hanging on his neck, he was too well-marked, with the result that Fung did all the scoring.

THE GAME
Portugal won the toss and elected to kick towards the Hospital end. Attacking from the start Portugal soon forced a corner and from the resultant kick, the Chinese goalie punched clear. Play transferred to the other end and in a matter of front of the Chinese goal, A. V. Gosano and Ward both took "pot" shots at goal, which were blocked each time. Another attack on the Chinese citadel was soon in progress on the left flank. Centring across the goal mouth the ball went over to Ward who re-centred and A. V. Gosano smashed his way through to head the first goal for Portugal.

The Chinese renewed their attacks with great vigour and a centre from the right was pushed clear by Marques, who in doing so was charged over and while on the ground Fung scored into an open goal.

The Police had to rely on their defence and a very gruelling time they had of it. McHardy, Chris Pile and Blackburn in the face of the swift Chinese attacks were cool and saved many a certain goal by their prompt clearances and their understanding.

North of the halves, was the most constructive player in the line. Gough and Parker worked hard but failed to distribute the ball to the best of advantage.

Lee Wai-tong gave S. China the lead when he converted a penalty against Blackburn for "hands" and the other goal came from the foot of Two Kwai-shing, just before time when he ran down the wing, passed Chris Pile and from a difficult angle, beat McHardy with a great shot.

England accounted for Ireland and Scotland.
Previous tournament winners are as follows:—1934, England; 1935, India; 1936, Portugal. England have been in the final for three consecutive years.

China's second goal came from a free kick outside the penalty area which was taken by Chan Kwai-jang, who sent in a curling shot. The goalie rushed out and was caught, out of position with the result Fung scored an easy goal.

Half time arrived with the score at two to one in favour of China. After the rest Portugal seemed to lose what sting they had in the attack and China thus did most of the playing in their opponent's area. Fung performed the "hat-trick" with a header off a corner kick.

The fourth goal was from the foot of Two Hian-gwan, who received the ball following a very tricky movement down the field between Lee and Fung, and with a terrific shot beat Marques. The fifth goal was Lee Wai-tong's, who in his inimitable style took a well placed shot at the goal and had the satisfaction of scoring his only goal.

Fung used his head to advantage again for the last goal of the match. A corner was forced and from the resulting kick, he neatly placed the ball into the net, to score the final goal of the match and his fourth.

POLICE BEATEN

With a sparkling display of football on Saturday, South China "A" defeated the Police by two clear goals. The Chinese fully deserved their win as they were immensely superior to the Police in all departments.

Fung King-cheung was brilliant, at times overshadowing Lee Wai-tong in generalship. He took every opportunity that was offered. The new Chinese star, Teo Hian-gwan was disappointing. He showed a fine turn of speed but very poor ball control. Teo Kwai-shing and Ip Pak-wa on the wings had plenty to do and they did their work in masterly fashion.

The Chinese halves Lau Hing-chol, Leung Wing-chiu and Lee Kwok-wai, together with the unsurmountable obstacle, Tam Kong-pak at right-back, were a defence at which the Police threw themselves time and again but never with anything like success. Tay Qual-ling occupied the unusual position of left-back and he made quite a good effort of it, giving good support to Tam.

The Police had to rely on their defence and a very gruelling time they had of it. McHardy, Chris Pile and Blackburn in the face of the swift Chinese attacks were cool and saved many a certain goal by their prompt clearances and their understanding.

North of the halves, was the most constructive player in the line. Gough and Parker worked hard but failed to distribute the ball to the best of advantage.

PIANO RECITAL

At The Hop Yat Church

Last night before an appreciative audience, at the Hop Yat
Church, Bonham Road, Miss Lily
P. Y. Lam gave a piano recital of three of her talented pupils, the Misses Mabel Chan and Joyce
Wang, and Mr. Au Wai Man.
The recital which was given in collaboration with Mr. James G. M.
Su, baritone, included items from Chopin, Brahms, Schubert and Handel. Eleven items in all were rendered and gave eloquent testimony of the versatility of the performers. Mr. James Su included in his repertoire a song from the Opera "Berenice" "Creation" from Oratorio, "Susanna" from an Opera, and "Goodbye" by Tosti.
Miss Mabel Chan delighted with Fanta's Impromptu (Chopin) besides rendering neat interpretations from Liszt and Stephen Heller.

Miss Joyce Wang opened the programme with Valse Triste
(Schubert) which was well received, and later played two difficult pieces from Chopin with apparent ease.

Mr. Au Wai Man chose
Hungarian Dance No. 5 and three exquisite pieces from Beethoven which were deservedly well received.

Miss Lily P. Y. Lam is to be congratulated for the excellence of the programme offered and to Mr.
James Su the possessor of a pleasing baritone voice, the success of the evening was in no small way due.

LADIES HOCKEY QUEEN'S COLLEGE

Official Season Closed

The Hockey season for the Hong Kong Ladies Association was brought to a conclusion on Saturday when the Senior Rest team beat the Caer Clark Cup Champions, the C.B.A. Ladies by 3 goals to 2, and the Junior Rest Team beat the Brawn Cup Champions, the Hong Kong Ladies by 4 goals to 1.

At the conclusion of the senior game, Mrs. T. E. Pearce, President of the Association presented the Seven-a-Side trophy to the "Y"
Ladies, who have won the competition for the second consecutive season, and the Knill Cup to the Central British Schoolgirls.
The Caer Clark Cup trophy, which was won for the first time by the C.B.A. Ladies, was presented to Miss F. K. Walker, skipper of the winning side, while the Southern Cup was handed over to Miss J.
Dalliel, captain of the H. K. Ladies, the runners-up. Mrs. Harrop received the Brawn Cup on behalf of Hong Kong Ladies, the winners.

In the Junior match, for the H.
K. Ladies Mrs. Davies and Mrs.
Harrop were the pick of the attack, the others being much too slow off the mark.

For the Rest team Miss A. Martin and Miss Bockler were very good in the attack and between them scored the winners' goals.
Miss Bockler opened the scoring, but Mrs. Harrop equalised for the champions soon after. In the second half Miss Bockler (2) and Miss A. Martin placed the issue beyond doubt.

THE SENIOR MATCH

In the Senior game between the Senior Rest team and the C.B.A.
Ladies, the Rest were fully extended and were extremely lucky to romp home the winners by the odd goal in five.

Miss Smith opened the scoring for the C.B.A., and they held the lead until the middle of the second half, when Miss S. Dalliel equalised. Miss Smith sent the C.B.A. Ladies ahead once again, but Miss Gittins equalised a few minutes later, and just before the end Miss O. Dalliel culminated a solo run down the wing by netting
the winning goal.

A DRAWN GAME

The Mamak fixture between the Nomads and the Departmentals at the Radio ground yesterday ended in a draw, both sides netting once in the first half.
The game was evenly contested and played at a fast pace, but at the closing stages play deteriorated, both teams being obviously affected by the gruelling heat.

NOMADS WIN

Playing with only ten men, the Nomads trounced the Signallers
(H.K.V.D.C.) in a friendly hockey match at the Radio ground on Saturday by five goals to one, after leading by two goals to one in the first half.

After the breather, they notched another three with no reply from their opponents. The goal-scorers were:—L. Osmund (1), S. A. Reed
(2), and J. Franco (2), while S.
Chowdhury netted the solitary goal for the losers.

C. B. A. HELD

The Central British Association,
unvanquished leader of the "B"
Division of the Mamak Tournament, received a rude shock yesterday at the hands of the Royal Engineers, when in a fast game,
they only just managed a draw.
Goals were only netted in the first half when S. A. Fowler found the net for the C. B. A. and McCaffery retaliated for the Engineers. The game was played at Sookumpoo.

SMALL UNITS FINAL

The "A" Company Punjab beat the 20th Battery on Saturday after a very even and exciting hockey match by two goals to nil. This match was the final of the Army Small Units Hockey Competition and the two goals were scored after extra time had been played.

Lal Singh opened the scoring for the Punjab when he scored from a penalty bully. Pootan Singh netted the other goal from a centre by Sarwan Singh.

In a friendly hockey game at Shamshulpo on Saturday the East
Lancs were held to a goalless draw by the Eight Destroyer Flotilla.

Annual Sports Held

Ideal weather conditions, which prevailed on Saturday resulted in some very good times being clock-ed at the Queen's College Annual Sports Meet, which was held at Causway Bay. Chan Wal-to bettered the high jump record of 5 feet 3 inches, which was recorded by Ko Kin-fan and Leung Juchoy in 1923. The new height is 5 feet 4 inches, 1 inch above the previous record.

Besides breaking this record,
Chan Wal-to secured the senior Championship, while Wong Kwokwai annexed the Junior Championship.

The invitation relay race was won by La Salle College after having nearly lost to St. Joseph's of Messrs. Woo and Woo, Solicit-

THE BEN LINE STEAMERS LTD.,PRESSURE ON THE FRANC*Bank Discount Rate Raised

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)
 Paris, Mar. 28.

In consequence of the increased pressure on the franc which has become noticeable lately and which has led to a considerable outflow from the capital to London and New York, the Bank of France decided on Saturday to raise the discount rate by no less than 1½ per cent to five per cent.

The rate had last February 5 been lowered to 3½ per cent having been increased within a few weeks by a total of three points in order to check the exodus of gold from France.

MARKET NERVOUS

London, Mar. 28.

The selling pressure against the franc gathered further momentum to-day, forcing the British control to throw considerable reserves into the breach, while these operations succeeded in keeping the

BERLIN SHARE MARKET

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Berlin, Mar. 27.

The trend on the Sharemarket on Friday, at first was somewhat uncertain. Fixed interest securities were also erratic.

Call Money stood at 4½. Young Loan rose ½ to 103½. Reichsbank sank ½ to 178½. German Dye Trust sank ½ to 157 3/5. Salzgitter Potash sank ½ to 178. Steel Trust (United) sank ½ to 84½. German Mineral Oils sank ½ to 115½. Siemens and Halske sank ½ to 174½. Bernberg Rayon sank ½ to 82½.

sterling-franc rate relatively stable at 75.04.

The extent of the nervousness may be gauged from the sharp widening of the discounts for forward gold currencies, with the franc leading the way. One month is quoted at 2½ and three months at 4½ discount.

The dollar-franc cross-rate is now 15.184, which permits gold shipments from Paris to New York. In this connection an imminent rise in the French bank rate is now freely rumoured.

THE SHARE MARKETHarriman's Weekly Review

Saturday, March 28.
 Messrs. G. Harriman & Co.'s weekly share report and market review issued at noon to-day states:-

The March Settlement which was the largest for at least the past three years passed off very satisfactorily on Tuesday last and the volume of business involved was a sure sign that more interest was being taken on our market, and in consequence a firmer tone prevailed after the Settlement with a few stocks marked up but trading in local investments was not on a very brisk scale owing to quite a new interest in Manila Gold mining investments which were a very active market throughout the week, but we have no doubt the local market will come into its own again as soon as buyers have satisfied their demand in Philippines. Amongst local investment counters, Hongkong Lands appreciated from 29½ to 30½. Hongkong Trams saw a new low level with sales reported at $10.50/70. Hongkong Electric were put through in quantity at $52.35/53.00 closing slightly easier. Telephones (old) were quiet with shares, obtainable at $25.15. Dairy Farms came to business at $19½ ex dividend. Minor issues were rather active. Providents (old) were dealt in at $130/45 and China Lights (old) at $10.60/75. Hotel's firm up from $4.15 to $4.50 cash and $4.60 June, but closed on offer at $4.50 cash. Cements came into their own once again and were put through at $8.84, closing in demand at $8.35. There was no change in the sterling sterling stocks. Hongkong Banks, had sales recorded at $1555/80 and Unions at $655/60. Among mining issues which more or less monopolized the attention of our market the most popular counters were Antamoks and Demonstrations. These stocks changed hands in fairly large quantities at $2.08/2.20 and 80½/88 cents for cash and $2.24 and 74 cts. for May delivery respectively. Bagulo Gold and United Paracale also showed strength, the former having been done at 22 2/4 and the latter at 61 1/4 cts. The tone of the market at the close is very steady in local securities, with the main interest still centred on Gold mining shares.

Business during the week has been done at the following prices:-
 H. K. Banks, $1555/1560.
 Unions, $655/660.
 H. K. Fires, $245/250.
 H. K. Electric, $523 3/5/53.
 Hotels, $4.15/4.20.
 H. K. Trams, $104/1070.
 Lights (old), $10.60/104.
 Providents (old), $130/145.
